VANCOUVER'S SECOND ANNUAL CHERRY BLOSSOM FESTIVAL

Vancouver boasts over 36,000 cherry trees in parks, boulevards and private gardens across the city and the city "turns pink" every spring. Inspired by the Sakura festivals of Japan, the second annual city-wide cherry blossom celebration will kick off on March 22. The festival will include a "Cherry Jam" outdoor concert, a Haiku poetry contest, plein-air blossom painting classes, tree talks and walks, trolley tours and a photo contest. A cherry blossom map will also be available on the website, marking the locations of some of the most beautiful blossom-viewing locations thanks to "Cherry Tree Scouts" across the city.
