Storyful

The Vancouver Cherry Blossom Festival is a local celebration of “romance” and “renewal” that brings many of the city’s residents and tourists together. People can enjoy outdoor picnics, nighttime events maps that help find the best places to see the iconic flowers that shower passersby in a dusting of light petals at the slightest breeze.

festival cause problems in the neighbourhood.

“We love that people come and admire the trees, but don’t go grabbing branches off the trees and try to make it rain on purpose with the petals,” Lele Chan

CTV News. “Respect the neighbourhood.”

In response, Chan created an Instagram account to document what she is calling “cherry blossom madness.”
